

Limit Your 401(k) Plan Exposure.

As your company's 401(k) Plan Sponsor, you have specific fiduciary responsibilities – and liabilities. As the plan fiduciary, you shoulder the responsibility for the plan selections you make, increasingly intricate compliance requirements, and the fees charged against your plan's assets by plan providers.

Soon, new Department of Labor regulations take effect requiring full disclosure of 401(k) plan fees. Because fees can seriously erode earnings, this change will prompt questions from employees about the integrity of your plan. If you don't have the right answers, it could lead to employee lawsuits.

An X-ray of your 401(k) plan by Global Financial Private Capital can examine your plan right down to the bone, showing how to mitigate your risk and optimize the value of your plan. Then we'll customize a 401(k) solution that is specific to your needs and effectively communicate the benefits of this to your employees.
